Never The Same Thing Twice!!

The 1980's are gone, but will never be forgotten. This was an evolutionary period of time that left virtually every aspect of our lives changed, whether it was internationally, environmentally, politically, or locally. As we enter the final decade of the twentieth century, we look back on where we've been, and we look forward to where we are going. During this powerful decade, we saw the 100th anniversary of the Statue of Liberty, the unification of people of all nations for a common cause, world hunger, one of the most successful and influential presidential administrations in history, the Iran-Contra affair, the Central American conflict, Polish solidarity, Apartheid, increasingly positive US/Soviet relations, the Challenger explosion, the great California earthquake, Hurricane Hugo, and the tearing down of the Berlin Wall in East Germany. The courageous struggle for democracy demonstrated by many suppressed countries captivated the world's attention. Rain Forests, oil spills, "Save the Whales", and other environmental issues became concerns for people everywhere.

Mount Olive College changed greatly, as well. The college added the athletic facility, College Hall, in 1983, which revitalized the entire sports program. In 1986, Mount Olive became a fully accredited four-year liberal arts college, with an increased faculty, curriculum, and a much expanded vision for the future. As a college, we look forward to the nineties, continuing on the "Road to Excellence" that we embarked upon in the eighties, striving to be the very best that we can be, and to meet the challenges that the upcoming decade will present.

We hope that you enjoy this edition of THE OLIVE LEAVES. It was our intention, as we thought about the book's theme, to look ahead to the final decade of the twentieth century, but, also, to capture the memories and the moments of the 1980's that have shaped us, changed us and prepared us for the future. It's NEVER THE SAME THING TWICE!!

Fall orientation wouldn't be the complete without the energetic help of the student assistants, or the "ASK ME" people, as they are affectionately known.

Student Life

Student Life at Mount Olive College is very unique. Everybody knows EVERYBODY and we enjoy spending time together at dances, at ball games, field days, pep rallies, bon fires, chapel and in class. It's always exciting and fun, but it's NEVER THE SAME THING TWICE!!

Luau Fever!

Every one came out to the Trojan Luau ready to enjoy a party! Held on August 31, 1989 in the newly renovated Student Center, the SGA sponsored event simulated a tropical dance party. People came dressed Hawaiian, or casually, to dance to tunes played by The Music Man and to feast on fruit, smoked sausages, Hawaiian Punch, and popsicles. Getting acquainted was the main purpose of this school-opening event, and get acquainted we did! Returning students who knew the ropes soon had the new students out on the floor dancing their hearts out. The 1989 Fall Semester was off to a great start, setting the stage for exciting happenings at Mount Olive College.

MOC Students DO THE SPLIT!

On August 29, 1989 the student center at Mount Olive College was the sight for a fun filled evening of conversation and every American's favorite, bananasplits. The new students, as well as returning Trojans, acquainted themselves with each other while sharing a large banana split that was created in a 20 foot gutter. A banana split is not complete without all the favorite toppings which included strawberries, pineapple, hot fudge with nuts. And to top it off was the ever traditional whipped cream and cherries. Sponsored and served by members of the SGA, the students enjoyed a total of nine gallons of ice cream in a variety of flavors. It was evident to the students that this one night of fun and excitement was just the beginning of a year full of activities for all to enjoy.

Club Fair '89 Gave Students the Chance To GET INVOLVED!

SGA Executive Officers Sherrie Martin, Stephanie Green, and Jaymes Elliott share information with Dean of Students, Al Warrick during the Club Night festivities.

The preparations were made. The Student Center was full of representatives and displays from the various clubs and organizations at MOC. "NOW WHERE CAN WE PUT THE FREE WILL BAPTIST FELLOWSHIP?" "WHO'S HERE FOR THE BSU?" "WHERE'S MY NAME TAG?" Questions flew back and forth in hectic preparation before people started coming in. There was a pause just before the stroke of seven as everyone took a breath. First there was just one student, then came two more, then seven . . . in less than twenty minutes the Student Center was full of students inquiring about this club or that club and signing their name and tests to be contacted for organizational meetings. It didn't last long, it seemed, for as much work went into it, but it was finally over. As the final student left and the last table put in its place, there was another brief pause in the form of a relief sigh.

Willis Brown, advisor to the Henderson Science Club, and Science Club president, Len Smith, are ready to answer any question concerning their organization.

Eagle's Nest? Where's That?

"Eagle's Nest, where is that?" This question was on the minds of every Freshman as they wondered just what was going to happen to them once they got there. The "Ask Me" people were no help. This was seemingly the only question they couldn't answer during those few days of moving in and getting acquainted with the new surroundings. They would only reply, "You'll find out." As the freshmen tried to imagine what would happen to them, the tension built and the time arrived. Fortunately their fears were relieved once the festivities began. The freshmen were separated into "trust groups." In each of the challenges put before them they had to depend upon each other for survival. "What a great way to meet new friends", freshman Sylvia Suggs commented, and similar reactions could be heard from many others. After enjoying a feast of hamburgers, hot dogs, and all the fixings, the group was thoroughly entertained by members of the faculty band, Raymond Robertson, Anthony Hatcher, David Hines, and Gary Barefoot, the student assistants, Sherrie Martin, and Mount Olive Alum, Phil Brown. Eagle's Nest will long live in the memories of those that participated as the place where they learned about depending on each other at Mount Olive College.

Fright Night!

On Tuesday, October 31, ghouls and goblins, witches and clowns, skeletons and beauty queens filled the dining hall at Eagles Nest to enjoy a fun and exciting SGA-sponsored party. The annual Masquerade Ball, one of the best attended and most successful events of the year, gives Mount Olive College students a perfect way to enjoy Halloween. Eagle's Nest, a recreational camp nestled somewhere in the southern Wayne county woods, provided the perfect setting for a night of fun, food and dancing. DJ Sound Approach, out of Dunn, NC, played the hits, while students, decked out in some rather outlandish costumes, enjoyed themselves on the dance floor. Those attending the Masquerade Ball had a wonderful and time and even took some candy home with them, provided by the SGA.

Shannon Moore, winner of "Most Original Costume," had a difficult time getting around dressed like a computer.

The day dawned sunny and bright on October 27 and most MOC students refused to wake early enough to greet it! Due to the cancellation of classes on this beautiful Friday, students, faculty and staff were invited to spend the day outside playing a variety of games and participating in numerous activities. Most everyone missed the opening race around campus, but champion Wesley Beddard was in top form, finishing quite a distance in front of the other competitors. The Hula Hoop contest and the earth ball race saw a few more participants, as did the volleyball game and softball game. By far the most popular event was the cookout at the Student Center, when virtually everyone left in the dorm and in the Henderson Building followed the smoky scent of hot dogs roasting and hamburgers grilling. Mr. Andrews cheerfully prepared the burgers and hot dogs, while members of the Residence Life staff and the SGA manned the tables filled with lettuce, tomatoes, chips, pickles, and goodies. Several faculty members and their children took advantage of the beautiful autumn weather and came to join in on all the festivities. It was a wonderfully relaxing way to complete a very hectic week and provided a head start on a fantastic weekend!

PROJECT EAST

Project EAST 1990 was the first of a series of yearly conferences at Mount Olive College aimed at identifying and initiating progressive action in eastern North Carolina and increasing awareness about the traditions, trends, needs, and prospects of the region that the college serves. Through Project EAST, Mount Olive College will provide a center for regional self-examination and a time and place for citizens to gather and reflect on life in our region as it was, is, and may be and to implement challenges to prepare for the next century in education. This year's conference, held on Tuesday, February 27 began at 11:00 AM with the keynote address on "Education and Economics in Eastern North Carolina" by Dr. William C. Friday. The noon session, led by William S. Powell, and Roy G. Taylor highlighted the chronology of North Carolina and particularly Wayne County. A Forum at 1:30 explored "Education as an Agent of Change in Eastern North Carolina" and the 3:30 session featured a Writer's Seminar, led by local and regional poets, novelists, journalists, and historians. Present at the 7:00 dinner and address were students, faculty, and staff of Mount Olive College, as well as citizens, local politicians and community leaders from all of Eastern North Carolina. Billy Ray Hall, a native of Wayne County, spoke to those gathered on the "Economic Development and the North Carolina Rural Profile". Project EAST 1990 was indeed a milestone in the academic history of Mount Olive College. We look forward to the annual conferences throughout the 1990's with great anticipation.

Mount Olive College honors the great achievements of Mrs. Lorelle F. Martin on Founder's Day.

Lorelle Martin Honored in 1989 Founder's Day Celebration

On November 23, 1989, Mount Olive College honored one of its most beloved professors, Mrs. Lorelle Frank Martin. "Lorelle Martin is a master teacher who has give to Mount Olive College a living legacy in the lives of all of her students and in the life of this institution." These words from President W. Burkette Raper express the sentiments of all who know Mrs. Martin, or have heard of her tremendous contribution to the college. As part of the celebration, a portrait of Mrs. Martin, donated by former students

Wyatt and Wayne Roberts, was unveiled and will be hung next to Room 207 in the Henderson Building, now named "The Lorelle Frank Martin Biology Laboratory". The speaker for the Founder's Day celebration, Dr. Billy O. Wireman, president of Queens College, Charlotte, reminded the audience that students of church-related college, such as Mount Olive and Queens, could be instrumental in the quest for peace and freedom that is so prevalent in our world today. Another Thanksgiving-time tradition on campus is the Thanksgiving Dinner/Talent Show held annually in the Downtown Auditorium. After feasting on a delicious spread of traditional dishes, students enjoyed listening to the talents of their fellow students. Solos by Richard Holmes, Stephanie Butler, Tracy McClamb and Steve Mintz, a piano solo by Ken Hutchinson, and a performance of an original song by Mr. David Ealy by David, Dirk van der Plas, Kelley Harrell, Jennifer Matthews and Ken Hutchinson completed a display of lots of talent.

CHRISTMAS!

Residents of the Men's Dorm couldn't resist the Christmas spirit upon arrival in the lobby. What a gorgeous tree!

The Free Will Baptist Fellowship creates their own Winter Wonderland in the Mount Olive parade.

The MOC Art Department created a "COOL YULE!"

As the chill of the night air got cooler, and minds turned toward exams, the students at Mount Olive College still found time for the fun and excitement of Christmas. The holiday season brought a parade to the town of Mount Olive on December 2, in which several college clubs and organizations participated. Although many students were spending relentless hours preparing themselves for final exams, they enjoyed decorating their residence halls windows, doors, and lobbies. The ladies' dorm filled with holiday spirit on December 12 as the residents played games, enjoyed holiday treats, decorated the Christmas tree, and exchanged "Secret Santa" gifts. The men's dorm joined in the festive spirit as well, as they decorated a lovely tree in the dorm lobby. The student center housed a beautifully decorated tree and helped to contribute to a campus-wide feeling of Christmas joy. The annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" is a highlight each year, this year being no exception. Ms. Carolyn Knox, the Mount Olive College Concert Choir, members of the Mount Olive College Singers, members of the faculty and staff and members of the community gave two beautiful presentations and ushered in the Christmas season in a beautiful fashion. On December 14, students, faculty, staff and their guests enjoyed a festive evening at the National Guard Armory. The "Winter Wonderland" theme was beautifully portrayed as those attending were greeted by sidewalk luminaries, streamers, poinsettia-lined walkways, a sleigh, and of course, Santa Claus himself! Dance Ltd. provided the evening's entertainment, complete with video screens and lights, playing a variety of favorite dance tunes. The semi-formal occasion allowed students a break from the anxiety of exam preparation and filled the hearts of everyone involved with the holiday spirit. The Christmas cheer rang throughout the campus until the last resident was on his way home to share his Mount Olive Christmas Spirit with family and friends.

THE MOUNT OLIVE COLLEGE SINGERS, under the direction of Irene Patten, continue to thrill and amaze their audiences across the state and the nation. Participating this year in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City and touring the states of Georgia and Alabama, the Singers once again had a very exciting and busy year. THE MOUNT OLIVE COLLEGE CONCERT CHOIR, under the direction of Carolyn Knox, travelled many miles this year as well. Local churches, annual dinners, and high schools across the state were entertained by this fine group of young people.

CATCH THE INTRAMURAL FEVER!

The Intramural program, in its second year under the capable direction of Ms. Sharon Carter, involved approximately 75% of the Resident student population. That's a great increase over past years, and tribute must go to Ms. Carter and her fine student staff. Assistant Directors Dalen Herring and Marvin Ford worked tirelessly to provide a variety of activities for the student body such as Aerobics, Volleyball, Basketball, Racquetball, Wallyball, Ping Pong, Checkers, Shag Lessons, Softball, a Slam Dunk contest, and a ski trip. With so many activities offered, there's little reason to be bored on this campus.

A Touch of Class

As the weekend drew near, and the time grew short, four ladies vying for the title of Pickle Classic/Homecoming Queen grew more anxious. Chosen by their fellow classmates, interviewed by the Mount Olive Jaycees, and finally, voted on by the student body, these ladies patiently awaited the moment when one of them would be crowned queen. Seniors Donna Best and Michele Brown, and juniors, Laura Hooker and Sherrie Martin each had an equal chance to win the title. Attendants, elected by their classes, stood close by. The sophomore class was represented by Stephanie Butler and Angela Sutter, and the freshman class was represented by Frankie Adams and Joy Ramsey. As halftime of the Mount Olive basketball game arrived, and the ladies were introduced to the crowd of onlookers, the excitement finally came to a climactic ending. Junior Laura Hooker, from Snow Hill, was crowned queen by Jaycee president, Neal Benton, and Sherrie Martin, from Spivey's Corner was named First Runner-up. Congratulations to all these fine ladies for representing Mount Olive College in such a beautiful fashion.

Homecoming — A Big "Dill"

One of the most exciting weekends on campus during the fall semester is Pickle Classic/Homecoming weekend. This year being no exception, the campus began its preparation in November. Letters were sent to parents encouraging their attendance at the annual Parent's Day, being planned in conjunction with Pickle Classic this year. The SGA was busy decorating the Student Center and encouraging participation in the Mount Olive Christmas parade, being held on Saturday afternoon. The basketball team was also preparing itself for play in the 25th annual Pickle Classic Basketball tournament, sponsored by the Mount Olive Jaycees. The Alumni office had been busy all semester locating alumni of the college, and inviting them back "Home" for the weekend. December 2 finally arrived and attendance was good. The parade was lots of fun for all those who participated, and the parents who made it to campus had a great time. Many alumni and friends of the college came out for the festivities. Although the basketball team lost a hard-fought battle on the court Friday night, they came back on Saturday night to win the Consolation Game. On the whole, the weekend was just as it always is - fun, exciting, and too short! The campus is already looking forward to Pickle Classic/Homecoming 1990.

LITTLE DEBBIE TAKES THE CAKE

Cupid's Beau was a smash hit, February 8, 1990, and was a spectacle to behold. The evening was spent with the lovely "ladies" singing and dancing their way into everyone's hearts, competing in the categories of talent, streetwear, toga, and evening gown. The humor ranged all the way from Little Debbie Snackinkay's (David Ealy) press on nails, to Maybelee Nett's (Len Smith) high-top Converse and evening gown combination. Phil Brown, the Master of Ceremonies, was decked out partially in a tux and partially in a skirt, "Just to suit the occasion."

Other participants were: Dancing Darlene Two-Step (Jaymes Elliott), who placed as First Runner Up, declared "You know it!" after receiving "her" title; Jazzy Jeffrina (Jeff Welcheck), who performed a most enchanting and graceful ballet routine; and, Henrietta Wilamenia Hugo-Hoggette (Richard Holmes), who proved that "she" could skate and sing at the same time without falling off the edge of the stage. All of the contestants gave a fine performance, but it was Little Debbie Snackinkay who was crowned the winner of Cupid's Beau 1990!

Miss Mount Olive College 1990

"Disney Magic" was the theme of the 1990 Miss Mount Olive College Pageant, which was sponsored by the SGA. Seven lovely contestants, along with 1989 Miss Mount Olive College, Stephanie Lancaster, and Mickey Mouse Stephen Prescott performed the opening number to "Zippity Doo-Dah". The opening number set the stage for an evening of glamour and excitement as the seven contestants competed in four phases of competition: Interview, Casual Wear, Evening Gown, and Talent. Each contestant performed beautifully and looked lovely. The audience enjoyed the evening thoroughly. Special entertainment for the evening was provided by Kelli Bradshaw, from Clinton, Miss Mount Olive College 1989, Stephanie Lancaster, and master of ceremonies, Mr. Bruce Creech, from Wallace, NC. After all four phases of competition had been completed, Ms. Michelle Johnson was crowned Miss Mount Olive College 1990. First runner-up honors went to Jennifer Barefoot, and second runner-up to Wendy Brown. Miss Congeniality, chosen by the contestants, went to Jennifer Barefoot.

Many thanks to friends of the pageant, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Heath, Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Martin, Jr., Mr. Gary Warwick, sound technician, Ann's Flower Shoppe, Mt. Olive Florist, Aries Formal Wear, Mt. Olive Copy and Print, Bonita's Bridal Boutique, and The Coed Shop. Thanks also to the ushers Chip Garris, Dan Hemphill, Mac McCullough, and Steve Hudson. The students at Mount Olive College were well represented in this year's pageant. We congratulate them, and we look forward to Michelle's reign.

Starry, Starry Night

It was a night of a thousand stars. Literally. The Student Government Association spent a full week getting ready for a first. It was the first time the annual Spring Formal was held in College Hall, and it was quite a undertaking. But, by 9:00 on Thursday, April 26, all 1,000 of those stars were in place, as was the giant telescope, 550 balloons, and lots of food. Finger foods such as chicken wings, barbeque weiners, homemade sandwiches, a vegetable and fruit tray, nuts, mints, and cake squares rounded out the menu for the evening. Students made their entrance through a celestial gateway, complete with balloons, tiny white lights and tiny little stars, and were amazed at the transformation of College Hall. Dance Ltd., out of Charlotte, NC played the hits while we danced the night away. Approximately 250 students and their guests enjoyed the evening and the convenience of the on-campus event. SGA sponsored and decorated, with much of the work being done by members of the Student Activities committee, many hours of preparation went into making this very special night even more special.

MOC Students Hit the Beach!

To celebrate the soon-to-be arrival of summertime and to give ourselves a break before those dreaded exams began, the Women's Dorm Council, together with the SGA, sponsored a Beach Party/Cookout on May 2. Mr. Bill was there to play all our favorite beach tunes, and Mr. Andrews was there to cook those burgers and hot dogs. Numerous faculty and staff joined in on the festivities, taking a well-deserved break as well. The Student Center was the place to be on this reading day, and those students who stayed on campus to study and prepare for exams had a great time. It was a great foretaste of what summer would bring!

"First Class" Graduates

On Saturday, May 12, 155 graduates walked across the stage in College Hall to receive their degrees in the thirty-sixth commencement. Of the 155 degrees awarded, 116 of them were bachelor's degrees, with the remaining 39 receiving the associate's degree. The Commencement speaker, Dr. Paul P. Griffin serves as the director of pediatric orthopedics at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine in Baltimore, Maryland. He shared with the graduates the moral values that have shaped his life, encouraging them to commit to goals and ideals, and to be persistent in their journey. Dr. Griffin is a native of Goldsboro, and his parents were great friends of Mount Olive College. During the graduation ceremony, Ms. Toni Thore Lee received the Martin Award, given to the four-year graduate with the highest academic average who has completed all work at Mount Olive College during four years of continuous enrollment. The Perret Award, presented to the underclassman with the highest academic average, went to three freshmen, Santanu Bose, Christi VanCamp, and Melissa Woodall. In addition, several students graduated with honors. Graduating summa cum laude were Mark David Heeren, Toni Thore Lee, Donald R. Saxinger, Nancy Anne Taylor, Timothy Kenyon Thames, Robert Van Meir, and Betty T. Williams. Graduating magna cum laude were Donald Kip Brown, Twila George Edgeson, Pam Heath, Kimberly Hood, William Luther Johnson, Greg Pritt, and Anthony D. Scurfari. Graduating cum laude were Vincent W. Bobrowski, LaRose Brock, Gina Carr, Rodney Casey, Sallie Hallisey, Bobbie Jean Hinnant, Sandra G. Kosalka, Randy J. Metz, Larry D. Miller, Howard R. Schussler, James D. Smith, Richard G. Smith, and Billy P. Woodard, Jr.

The Distinguished Friends of Mount Olive College Award was given to the William P. Kemp family by the Board of Trustees. Present was Mr. William R. Kemp, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. William P. Kemp, Jr. Dr. Raper said the college owes a tremendous debt of gratitude to the late Elizabeth A. Kemp, who served as the chairman of the college's landscape committee in 1966. "Through perserverance, hard work, and her unique gentle manner, she transformed the drabness of this campus into a garden of beauty." Mrs. Kemp served on the Board of Trustees from 1971-1983, and her husband, Mr. William P. Kemp, Sr. served from 1983-1989. Mr. William P. Kemp, Jr. serves on the faculty of Mount Olive College. Congratulations and farewell to the graduating class of 1990. We look forward to "what you may become and what you may be able to do for society". (Paul P. Griffin)

Clubs

Clubs and Organizations at Mount Olive College offer a wide variety of interests. The International Club formed this year, as did the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Phi Beta Lambda and the Free Will Baptist Fellowship, as well as the Psychology Club and the English Society remained strong, and the Recreation Majors Club continued to be active. The Pep Club offered a chance for students to become ENTHUSIASTICALLY involved in cheering for the TROJANS, and as usual, the Henderson Science Club remained a vital part of the campus community. BSU, the Cheerleaders, the Concert Choir and the Dorm Councils also made contributions to help make this an exciting year for CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS.

The FWBF is open to any student. Whatever faith, denomination, or church affiliation, every student is welcome. Their meetings provide students with a time to share and build lasting friendships. Advisor is Dianne Riley. Officers this year: President, Michelle Taylor; Vice-President, Wendy Lamm; Secretary, David Ealy; Treasurer, Len Smith.

Free Will Baptist Fellowship

FWBF President Michelle Taylor.

The FWBF Christmas float "WinterWonderland" brought warm greetings to parade onlookers.

The Baptist Student Union also provides students with an opportunity for sharing and forming friendships. In addition, offers a chance to participate in state-wide conferences and missions retreats. Membership is open to any student, no matter what faith or church affiliation. BSU is a nationwide organization, sponsored by the Southern Baptist Convention. Advisor to the organization is Joni Lancaster.

Baptist Student Union

Jaymes Elliott, Leigh Strickland, David Ealy, Len Smith.

The MOC English Society strives to develop a scholarly and co-operative community among various college disciplines, to create a sense of identity and purpose among English majors, to strengthen student-faculty relationships, and to offer an outreach program to area schools. The OLIVE BRANCH, an annual publication of students' poetry and prose, is a unit of the English Society. President this year was Pam Swinson.

Psychology Club

Members of the MOC English Society decorated the Angel Tree to raise money for the Free Will Baptist Children's Home in Middlesex, NC. Pictured are Cecil Cahoon, Pam Swinson, Kelley Harrell, Shane Aube, and Joseph Williams.

The Mount Olive College STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION serves as the voice of the student body. Representatives plan activities, voice concerns and needs of the students, and serve in various capacities on campus. This year's President was Jaymes Elliott, Vice-President, Sherrie Martin, Secretary, Vickie Stroud, and Treasurer, Stephanie Green.

Student Government

The Psychology Club, in its second year at MOC, provides students whose interests lie in the field of Psychology with an opportunity for further study and involvement. Club Advisor is Ray Taylor, and this year's president was Traci Riggs.

MOC English Society

The MOC Political Forum is one of the newest organizations on campus. It is designed to bring political awareness to the campus, and to get the students and faculty actively involved in shaping the future of their communities as well as the nation. President of the organization is Kelley Harrell.

MOC Political Forum

The Henderson Science Club, one of the oldest and most established organizations on campus is open for membership to all students. Annual field trips to Science Conference and presentations provide members study in the field of Science outside of the classroom. Officers this year are Len Smith, President, Jaymes Elliott, Vice-President, Mary Neel, Secretary, and Joseph Williams, Treasurer.

Henderson Science

Buddy Jones, Dr. Richard Bounds, Advisor, Jaymes Elliott, Len Smith, Chris Paul, Willis Brown, Advisor, Joseph Williams.

Club

The Intramural Association works to provide a strong intramural program for MOC students. Under the direction of Intramural Director, Sharon Carter, the intramural program enjoyed one of it's most successful years ever. The students in the Intramural Association spend many hours in preparation, planning and activities.

Intramural Association

James Bethea, Arvin Rhodes, Franklin Rouse, Marvin Ford, Dalen Herring, President, Shane Aube.

The MOC Pep Club seeks to promote school spirit in athletic activities sponsored by the college, and to promote better attendance at all athletic events. In it's first year of existence, the Pep Band, made a dynamic debut at several home basketball games. President is Semora Samuels, and advisor is Julie Beck.

Pep Club

Members of the MOC Pep Band add a new dimension of fan support!

Phi Beta Lambda is a national organization for students who are interested in business or secretarial careers. The purpose of the organization is to develop competent business leadership, strengthen the confidence of students in themselves and their work, and to create more interest in business occupations. President is Brian Taylor, who also serves as State Secretary.

Phi Beta Lambda

people at Mount Olive College are definitely NEVER THE SAME THING TWICE!! They come from different areas, counties, states, and even countries, bringing with them a certain uniqueness that separates them from all the rest. However, after only a short time here, students from all these diverse places find that they are different, yes, but also share many of the same characteristics, interests, goals and dreams. PEOPLE are what make Mount Olive College the unique community that it is and makes for years that are NEVER THE SAME THING TWICE!!, but always terrific!

Members of the Board of Trustees of Mount Olive College are selected to serve six-year terms by the North Carolina State Convention of Original Free Will Baptists. From these thirty members, a president and administrative officers are elected. The Board of Trustees serve as the governing agency and highest authority of the college. They meet on four occasions during the year, and additional called meetings as they are necessary. Mr. Marvin Edwards of Wilson serves as Chairman.

Board of Trustees

Members of the Board of Trustees participate in the Graduation Exercises each year. We thank them for their support and concern for the students of Mount Olive College.

In his 36th year as MOC President, Dr. W. Burkette Raper continues to strive toward excellence in education. Distinguished as one of the most admired and respected college presidents in the state of North Carolina, Dr. Raper has devoted his life to Mount Olive Collge. Following his leadership are members of the Administrative Council, Mr. Clayton Everett, Dr. Opey Jeanes, Dr. Barbara Kornegay, Mr. Al Warrick, Ms. Dorothy Whitley, and Mr. Jimmy Williams.

Above and beyond the call of duty. That phrase is often spoken, but has never been more appropriate than it is when used to describe the Food Services staff at MOC. Under the capable leadership of third year director, Randy Anselmi, this staff has endured events and situations that a less trained and dedicated staff would never be able to overcome. Battling bad working conditions, at times, a small number of workers, and old equipment, these ladies and gentlemen have managed to carry out a quality food service program serving students, faculty, staff, and the surrounding community on a daily basis.

Often the brunt of students' jokes all over the state and country, our staff, too, receives their share of comments. After all, college students will be college students. Most of the negative comments, of course, are untrue, but what is true, is that the students and staff at Mount Olive College are thankful and proud of our food services staff, and we wanted everyone to know!

With a smile on her face, Geveva Strickland greet students everyday.

It's beginning to feel like home!

Martin Bellamy scores another basket in the Pickle Classic game against Newport News.

Sports

ports at Mount Olive College allows students an opportunity to compete in various intercollegiate sporting activities. Early fall sports, soccer and volleyball, start off the sports season in late August, followed by Basketball, Tennis, Baseball, Golf, and Softball. The Intramural program offers those students not involved on an organized team a chance to compete in various activities such as racquetball, aerobics, ping pong, pool, weight lifting, basketball, and softball. SPORTS at MOC — definitely NEVER THE SAME THING TWICE!!

■ Right: Trying out their Pickle Classic Dance at the Pep Rally, are Kristie Warrick, Sylvia Suggs, Cindy Lamm, Laura Hooker and Tracey Bass.

■ The 1989-90 squad, in their final performance of the season, attempt to spark the crowd with a cheer.

■ Tracey Bass, Amy Bunn, Cynthia Mallard, Melanie Campbell, Sylvia Suggs, Suzanne Price.

We've Got That Spirit!

The Trojan Cheerleaders, under the capable leadership of four-year veteran, Kristie Warrick, began their year early in the fall semester. A young squad, but enthusiastic, nevertheless, they began preparing for basketball season. Returning cheerleaders Laura Hooker, Suzanne Price and Cindy Lamm provided additional leadership to a somewhat young and inexperienced squad. Personnel changes after the fall semester presented an additional challenge to this squad, with the loss of three strong leaders. However, the squad pulled together under the leadership of Senior Suzanne Price and Freshman Cynthia Mallard, learned new material and made the 1989-90 cheerleading season a tremendous success. These ladies worked hard and practiced long, and with only 6 completing the season, provided lots of school spirit and excitement.

■ In his second year as Trojan mascot, Len Smith concentrates on the basketball game.

Soccer Team Shows Marked Improvement

■ Freshman Ashley Fuquay watches the action intently from the sidelines.

With an average record of 2-14 after three years, this year's record of 5-11 was definitely an improvement. This was the first year the Trojans defeated Wingate College. When the Trojans played at home, it was almost certain victory; going 5-2, and outscoring their opponents 17-4.

Coach Randy Strawser had some talent on his team this season. Led by co-captains Daryl Anderson and Rocky McAlduff, this team possessed great leadership and great motivation. Coach Strawser pointed out, "I tried to put my key players up front. That caused us to score more goals than we ever have, but we also gave up more goals than in the last two seasons. We're a better team than our record shows." Strawser went on to mention the games against Wingate and St. Andrews as the best two games the team played all season.

With the loss of Anderson and other key players next year, Strawser will have to rely more on the young players. With a possible 11 of 17 players returning plus new recruits, this team should have a good amount of experience behind them.

Players standing out offensively this season include Rocky McAlduff, with five goals and 3 assists, All-Conference Mike Crystal with 5 goals and 2 assists, sophomore Jim McLane with 4 goals and 2 assists, and freshman Brian Sterner, with 2 goals and 5 assists. Defensive standouts were Crystal, Sterner, half-backs, Mike Roed and Doug Gantt, freshman Billy Gilbert, and junior goalie, Anthony Duez, who had 115 saves and 2 shutouts.

Congratulations on a good year Trojans! Good luck in the 1990 season, as we begin our first full decade of Trojan Soccer.

■ Far Left: Sophomore standout Jim McLane out-manuevers his opponent for a possible score.

Setting Up For Victory!

■ Wendy Murphy "sets" the ball for another team member.

The Trojan Volleyball squad started the season with a few, tough losses. Nevertheless, despite injuries to two starting players, they managed to win their next four out of five games. The injuries to these two players hampered what looked to be a very promising season for Coach Jimmy Lamm and his team.

Coach Lamm commented, "We had a young team this year. It was a very successful season because we were in every match. With eight of twelve players returning, we look to improve. Five of those eight players are starters. All of these returning players are underclassmen, so this young Trojan team can only go up." Many times, motivation can be the difference in how a team plays. The Trojans received their motivation from seniors Traci Riggs and All-Conference Tronette "Tree" Rebeiro. These two players, along with Sophomores Vickie Stroud and Wendy Murphy were instrumental in the team's play. With possible matches next year against ECU and UNC-Wilmington, the Lady Trojan volleyball team will be more experienced and better prepared. The Trojans were led statistically by Traci Riggs with 27 kills, 59 points, 23 blocks-11 for points; Tronette Rebeiro with 47 kills, 55 points, and 14 blocks; Wendy Murphy with 324 sets, and 81 points; Vickie Stroud with 15 blocks and 22 points; and Christy Bradley with 17 blocks and 9 points.

■Christy Bradley, Tronette Rebeiro, and Christina Schaeffer attempt to save the ball as it flies back across the net.

■Senior standout Tronette Rebeiro gives her all to the game as she attempts a save.

Seniors Go Out In Style!

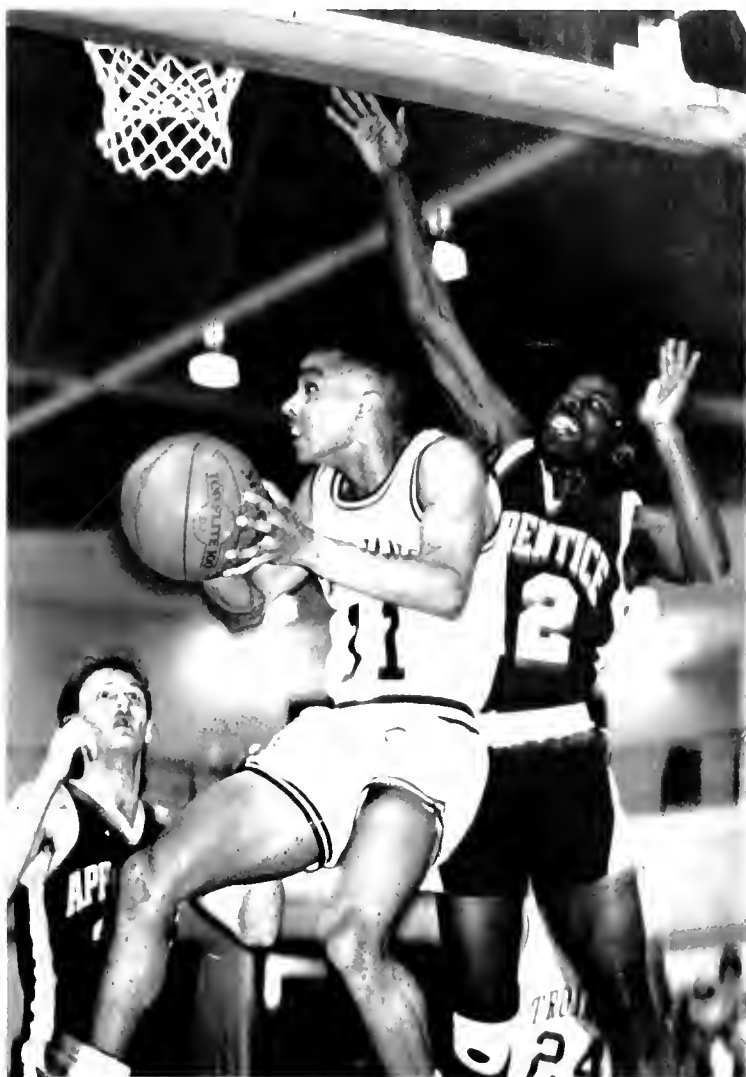

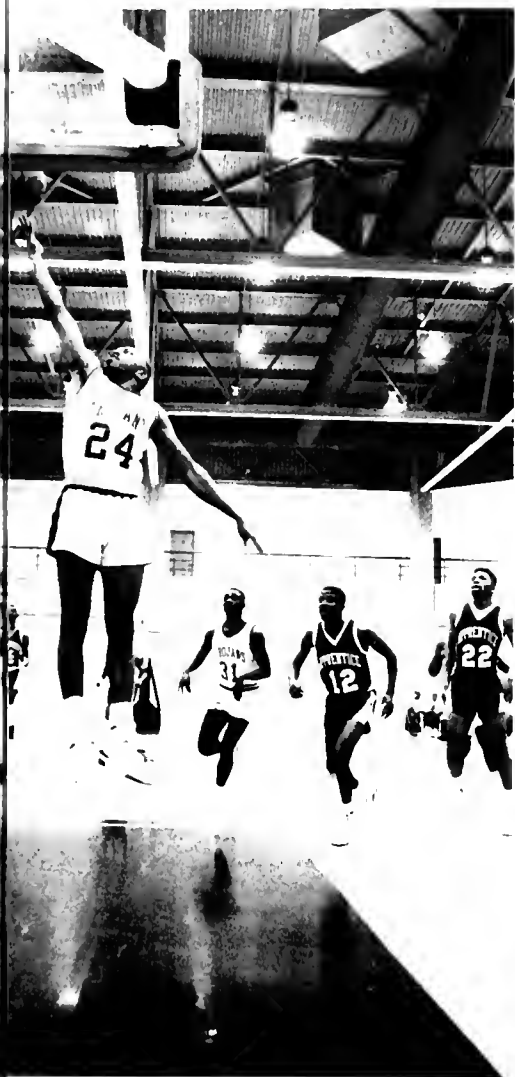

The 1989-90 Trojan Basketball season is one that will never be forgotten. In only their second year in the Carolina's Conference, MOC grabbed second place, despite being picked fourth in pre-season and opened some eyes in the immediate basketball world. The final record, 15-13, does not show how good a team the Trojans were. Coach Cletus Green pointed out, "I was pleased with this year's team. Martin, Henry and Norman did a fine job in leading the team. This team could easily have won the conference regular season and tournament. We got out of the starting gates early, beating ACC, High Point, and Pembroke, but we got down on ourselves and lost a few tough ones. These boys did an excellent job of turning things around." In fact, the Trojans won four of the last five conference games to insure them of the number two seed in the CIAC Tournament. In their only win in the tournament, Martin Bellamy hit Jason Settles on a fastbreak lay up with nine seconds left to give the Trojans a 77-75 first round win over the Panthers of High Point on their home court. This was the kind of leadership shown all year by Martin Bellamy and the other guys. No doubt, the Trojans were exciting to watch. Nothing was more thrilling than seeing Martin Bellamy lighting up from 3-point country or Jason Settles jamming one home or sending an opponent's shot into the seats. Bellamy averaged 21.5 points per game, was 97-236 from 3-point land, dished out 69 assists, had 45 steals, 582 total points, and hit an outstanding 77% from the free throw line. Clearly, this was more than enough to earn himself a place on the all-conference and all-district teams. Choosing the second semester for his last of eligibility, senior guard Norman Karsevar banged in 13 points a game, had 56 assists, and hit 75% from the line. Forward Jason Settles virtually was the landlord inside and handed out plenty of eviction notices. Popping in 10 points a game, Settles swatted 42 shots, pulled down 7 rebounds a game - 74 of them offensive. Senior center Henry Harris came on strong in the post to average 10.3 points per game, pull down 6 rebounds per game, and hit 72% from the line. The bench was excellent with Erik Barksdale averaging 8.5 a game, Tony Venable dumping in 8.6 a game, and senior Darlee Eason and Marcelle Williams making Coach Green's job a little easier. The seniors Bellamy, Karsevar, Eason, Harris and Jeff Gainey have certainly left their mark and their play will not be forgotten. With the J.V. Team going 7-5 behind the play of Eric Bellamy, Dexter Morrissey, Ron Keller, James Bethea and Tony Hurt, these guys will look to fill in. Strong rebounding is expected to be supplied by some big red-shirts. Congratulations Trojans for a job well done. Good luck, seniors - that's the way to GO OUT IN STYLE!

■ OK guys, what's next? Coach Green and his team talk things over during a time out.

■ Senior center Henry Harris crashes the boards and jerks a rebound away from St. Andrews.

■ Trojan righthand man Eric Barksdale rips down a board as teammates Darlee Eason, Henry Harris, and Lee Jackson "box 'em out"

■ "Putting the icing on a fastbreak cake", Martin Bellamy slams home two as the Trojans routed High Point, 88-62

■ Coach Green squats down while he eyes the floor and orchestrates the plays.

■ "Going all out", Mac McCullough leads the wild Trojan fans in their cheers for the team and the referees.(note the much-needed eye chart!)

Lady Trojans Show Major Improvements

Despite finishing 6-21 overall and 3-9 in the conference, second year coach Wynelle Weston and the 1989-90 edition of the Lady Trojan basketball team accomplished things no other team in MOC Girls basketball history has ever done. This year marked the first time a player has won player of the week honors - Kristie Wiggins. This year also gave the Ladies their first conference win. Above all, the first MOC lady basketball player to be ranked in the nation. Senior, all-conference center Tronette Rebeiro, ranked 20th in the nation in rebounding as she averaged 12.9 per game. Other noteworthy honors include Wendy Murphy, who led the conference and District 26 in 3 pt. percentage. Wendy won the District 26 3 pt. shootout and advanced to the National Division III 3 pt. Shootout, where she hung tough before being edged in the semi-finals. Overall, this season had more positive notes than the final record indicates. Who could forget the February 15th game against Pembroke State in which Rebeiro stole a pass with little time on the clock to give the Trojans the victory? Coach Weston added, "This year's team was much improved. The recruits did a fine job. If anything, the girls made great progress, mentally, and physically. With a good recruiting year, I have high hopes for 1990-91."

■ Senior Marchelle Sutton supports her team from the bench, while Debbie Hansen and Vickie Stroud concentrate on the action.

PLAYING HARDBALL!

The 1990 Baseball season earned, if anything, respect for the Mount Olive College baseball program. The Trojans showed their ability to compete on any level of play. Fourth year coach Carl Lancaster call this year's schedule, "the most difficult ever". To prepare for a season that would pit the Trojans against six division I schools and the defending NCAA division III champion, NC Wesleyan twice, Lancaster recruited well and brought in nine Junior college players. Indeed, this was a very strong schedule. Making their presence known, the Trojans defeated Division I schools Farleigh Dickenson, Baptist College, and Princeton University. In a game that could have gone either way, the Trojans lost by only two against nationally ranked Citadel. Starting the season 11-5, the Trojans seemed on their way to the district play-offs for the third straight year, but injuries to Mark Chambers and Todd Miller, and make-up games due to rain, no doubt hurt the Trojans' season. Despite these problems, the Trojans played in several games to be remembered. The first game of the Princeton series saw ace Tim Gingrich shut down the visiting Tigers 3-1, throwing a complete game. On April 7, the Trojans swept a double-header 10-0 and 4-0 against conference opponent Belmont Abbey. The Trojans finished 23-22 overall, but the final record does not indicate the ability of this fine team. Two members of the 1989-90 Baseball team, Steve Hudson and Jay Lamm, were chosen for the All Carolina Conference Team. Congratulations to these outstanding players.

■ Junior college transfer standout Steve Mintz receives congratulations from Assistant coach Roger May as he rounds third for home, a result of one of his many home runs this season.

■ "I made it back, didn't I?" This Trojan is afraid to look!

■ Junior college transfer Tim Gingrich waits to see what the batter has done with the pitch.

Lady Netters Make Their Mark!

In her final year as women's tennis coach, Brenda Cates led this year's team to an improved season despite playing through injuries. This year's squad set a good example for future tennis teams to follow. The Lady Trojans proved they could play and win with the stronger tennis schools. Compared to early season expectations, this season can be considered a success. Coach Cates commented, "I was pleased with my girls' play. They showed a great deal of confidence against some pretty tough competition. This year's team was one of the best teams I've coached." Standing out on the court for the ladies this year was Michelle Brown(11-4), Liddy Ponti(8-6), Doubles combinations Terri Smith/Brown(9-6), Ponti/Donna Best(9-5), Cindy Lamm/Cathy Cockrell(4-3). The fine play of seniors Michelle Brown, Donna Best, and Cindy Lamm will be missed. A strong recruiting off-season looks to bring good prospects into the organization, which should strengthen next year's team.

Freshman Meredith Aycock gets in some extra practice between matches.

■ Takin' it easy before the game, the 1990 Lady Trojan softball team readies themselves for another contest.

Lady Hurlers Gain Deserved Recognition

The 1990 Softball season proved to be a year to remember for coach Lamm and his Lady Trojans as they hung tough in their first year of fast pitch and turned things around in the conference tournament. According to coach Lamm, "When the other teams are more experienced in fast pitch softball than we are, that's an automatic strike against us." Good point, Coach Lamm, but the 1990 team forgot that strike! After being outscored by Pembroke State and Pfeiffer 72-36 during the regular season, the Lady Trojans passed judgement on these teams; sealing Coach Lamm's honor as Coach of the Year. With the basis of the team freshmen, this young team can build and grow together. This year's edition of the Lady Trojans gained recognition and respect and set a solid foundation for the future. If the Lady Trojans can win ten games in their first year of fast pitch, opposing softball teams will dread tangling with them in the years to come. In the first game of the Tournament, the Ladies smashed Pembroke State 18-0, bashing ten hits while winning pitcher Dalen Herring went the distance. In the third game against Pfeiffer, the team pounded out twelve hits with Kristi Wiggins going 3-for-3 and Dalen Herring picking up her second complete game of the tournament. Kristie Wiggins was named all-conference and all-district. Christy Bradley was named to the all-conference and all-tournament teams, while Joy Ramsey and Dalen Herring were also named to the all-tournament team. Coach Lamm was named the Carolinas Conference Coach of the Year. The Lady Trojans finished up with a record of 10-21, led by Kristie Wiggins, Joy Ramsey, Dalen Herring and Christy Bradley in the area of hitting. Clearly this is a team to take seriously. With the potential realized this year, the only way to go is up!

Golfers Make Their Marks

■ Practicing his swing, Ashley Fuquay aims toward the green.

■ In his first year as Golf Coach, Admissions counselor Tim Woodard wasn't sure exactly what he was in for. In addition, since most of this year's team was new as well, they spent lots of time on the road, not really sure of where they were going. Nevertheless, they arrived safely and promptly at every place and placed well in virtually every tournament that they participated in. Greg Casper, a newcomer to the golf program at MOC, was named all-conference, and placed well in most tournaments. Mark Raynor was named most valuable at the annual Athletic Banquet. Southern Wayne Country Club provided practice time for the MOC Golf team, and they spent many hours on the fairways and greens trying all the time to improve their individual games. With so many young members on the team, the future for the MOC Golf program can only improve.

nother year at MOC has come and gone. Hopefully, as you look over your year here, you'll remember fondly special events and memorable times that were special to you. We hope you find special meaning behind the theme, Never The Same Thing Twice. We hoped to show that every year brings different challenges and events, and how our years at MOC are definitely, NEVER THE SAME THING TWICE!!

A view of the Henderson Building and the Moye Library - two very busy places on campus.

Valentine's Day is a great time to say "I Love You", as someone in the women's dorm is about to find out.

You don't have to ask twice. Neither do we.

How many times, at how many banks, have you heard, "We'll have to check with the main office," or "You'll have to call Charlotte"?

Just what you don't need. The old runaround. At New East Bank we won't send you anywhere. We're not a branch, we're your hometown bank. Decisions are made right here in Goldsboro, so we never have to ask twice for anything. And neither do you.

THANKS TO YOU!

Converting from a fall to a summer yearbook delivery is quite a challenge. That's what this year's staff was faced with, and although it was difficult, and things didn't always progress smoothly, we faced the challenge head on, and met it. Without an editor, and with a young and inexperienced staff, we all wore many hats and learned many things.

My special thanks to Sandra Phelps for all her help. She always had the pictures that we needed, and we appreciate everything she did to help to complete this book. In addition, thanks to Jerry Morgan for the use of his computer and for all his help, and to Rich Lancaster for his patience and understanding. Thanks also to Dianne Riley and Julie Beck for the use of many of their photographs. In addition, many thanks to the following photography students and Mr. Larry Lean for their contributions: Michelle Boyette, Pam Swinson, Don Perry, Kou Yang, Jaymes Elliott, Kelly Crumpler, and others whose photographs were used in this year's publication. Many thanks also, to Dave Johnson for photographing this year's commencement exercises. A special thanks to Shane Aube, sports editor. Shane went the "extra mile" in his coverage of sports this year, and he is to be commended for all of his efforts and hard work. In this edition of the OLIVE LEAVES, we tried to re-capture the 1980's, look forward to the 1990's, and knowing that it's NEVER THE SAME THING TWICE, perhaps capture that one moment, event, or friend that'll you'll always cherish. We hope you enjoy our work.
